U.S. TRADE (U.S. funds)

The U.S. cash cattle trade remains untested today as new show lists were distributed. This week's offering is steady to slightly larger in volume. Stronger cattle futures were anticipated today following a soaring market last week on the board and in the cash cattle trade, however the nearby live cattle futures today were disappointing and down triple digits. Both bids and asking prices for this week's offering are unestablished with very little business expected before the second half of this week.
